

Parents' Bill of Rights LA.RS. 17:406.9

As a parent, guardian, or caregiver of a student enrolled at Travis Hill NOLA Schools, you are an essential partner in your child's education. While we operate in a structured and secure environment, we are committed to fostering strong communication, trust, and collaboration with families.

Your Rights as a Parent

- Educational Access and Support
 - Be informed of your child's educational progress, needs, and achievements.
 - Know what academic programs, courses, and services are available to your child.
 - Request academic records, report cards, transcripts, IEP/504 documentation (if applicable).
- Communication and Engagement
 - Receive regular updates about your child's progress, behavior, and attendance.
 - Schedule phone class, virtual meetings, or in-person conferences with staff.
 - Be notified of significant changes in your child's educational placement, schedule, or services.
- Special Education Rights
 - If your child has an exceptionality, you have the right to participate in all meetings related to your child's Individualized Education Plan (IEP) or 504 Plan.
 - Receive prior written notice and give informed consent regarding assessments, services, or educational decisions.
- Safe and Respectful Learning Environment
 - Expect that your child will be treated with dignity and respect by all school staff.
 - Be assured that the learning environment is safe, structured, and focused on positive growth and development.
 - Report concerns or complaints related to your child's education and have them addressed appropriately and promptly
- Participation in Planning
 - Be part of the reentry planning process for your child's transition back into the community and/or traditional school setting.

- Receiver support and resources that will help your child reintegrate successfully into their home school or workforce pathway.
- Confidentiality and Privacy
 - Expect that your child's educational information will be kept confidential and shared only with authorized personnel in accordance with FERPA and applicable laws.
- Language Access
 - Request and receive communication in your preferred language, including translated materials and interpretation services, whenever possible.

We welcome your voice. You may contact the school directly via an email to crobinson@travishillnola.org or request a call through your child's caseworker. Together, we can ensure your child receives the education, support, and opportunities they deserve.
